

Central Intelligence Agency

Washington, D.C. 20505

1 May 1985

Mr. William C. Salmon
Senior Advisor for Science & Technology
Room 1206
U.S. Department of State
Washington, D.C. 20520

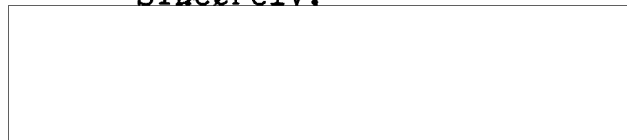

Dear Mr. Salmon:

I want to express the appreciation of our staff and students for your participation in the Agency's first Seminar on Science & Technology Forecasting. The Seminar was an unqualified success in a large part due to the presentations made by you and other scientists from the Government and industry.

Student comments on your address and discussion were all positive and as one expressed it, "I never really understood what a science attache did until you explained it."

I hope we can count on you for any future seminars we may sponsor on S&T forecasting.

Sincerely,

Director
of
Training and Education

STAT